ABOUT ME

As a novice in IT industry, I'm eager to embark on my journey in this dynamic domain. I am thrilled to immerse myself in the multifaceted and demanding landscape of software engineering

With a strong foundation in programming languages such as C Java and web development .I also have a deep understanding of cloud computing and familiar with it's technology such as virtualization and containers . Additionally , I've learned about different types of attacks and measures to detect and prevent from them such as encryption ,hash algorithm etc.
